13 January 2026

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

Warm greetings!

This year, Loyola School of Theology (LST) and Loyola House of Studies (LHS) are celebrating their 60th foundation anniversary. As part of this milestone, LST is organizing the second run of the International Conference on Ignatian Spirituality (ICIS). In light of the pressing concerns of our time, this year's ICIS will focus on three highly relevant and interconnected themes: Mental Health, Communal Discernment, and Artificial Intelligence. These issues increasingly shape the context of formation, education, ministry, and leadership, calling for thoughtful reflection grounded in the Ignatian tradition.

Event Schedule:

- Dates: 22-24 April 2026 (Wednesday – Friday noon)
- Venue: Henry Irwin Lee Theater, Ateneo de Manila Grade School, and LST, Ateneo de Manila University, Loyola Heights, Quezon City, Philippines

We warmly invite institutions and organizations to encourage the participation of their faculty, students, and staff, for whom this conference may serve as a timely opportunity for learning, dialogue, and skill-building. The conference brings together scholars, formators, and practitioners who will engage these themes with both depth and practical sensitivity.

Registration and Additional Information:

Registration details, conference agenda, and other essential information can be found on our conference website: <https://events.lst.edu/>

Only around 300 seats are available to non-LST students. Online pre-registration is thereby required to reserve a slot, with a minimal non-refundable fee of PhP 2,500.00, which covers 3 lunch meals, 5 snacks, and other expenses during the Conference. Registrants will receive an email-generated confirmation e-ticket 2-3 days after payment. Certificates of Attendance will be available upon request.

Upon online pre-registration, participants are requested to reserve their slots in a workshop topic scheduled on 22 and 23 April 2026. Only a fixed number of participants can be accommodated in the workshops.

For inquiries, please email admin@lst.edu. Thank you very much.

Sincerely yours,

(sgd.)
